

Summer 2017

AP/EN 1001 3.0A (SU)

An Introduction to Literary Study

Course Director:

Dr. Richardine Woodall
rglwoodall@rogers.com OR woodall@yorku.ca

Delivery Format:

Fully Online

Time:

NA

Description:

This course gives students the opportunity to study the special characteristics and functions of literary texts. Examples of several literary genres are examined and students have the opportunity to develop their abilities to read and interpret, to discuss and write about literature in English. The weekly lectures focus on such elements as strategies of composition such as rhetoric, genre, voice, audience, historical context, and biographical context.

Category:

NA

Area:

NA

Period:

NA

Historical Requirement:

NA

Requirements:

Research Essay 1500 words (25%); 2 Quizzes (each 10% for a total of 20%); 2 Discussion Post Forums, 500 words (each 10% for a total of 20%);
**Final Exam** (25%); Participation in online discussions (10%).

**The Final Exam will be held onsite during the official final examination period**

Reading List:

Elements of Literature: Fiction Poetry Drama . Ed. Robert Scholes. (Oxford UP)
Selection of poetry (available on Moodle)
Selection of prose readings (available on Moodle)
Selection of essays (available on Moodle)

Open To:

Yr1 & Yr2