Senior Mixed Genre Workshop

Course Director:

Priscila Uppal

Delivery Format:

Seminar

Time:

Tuesdays, 11:30am - 2:30pm

Description:

A course for students who are seriously engaged in the practice of writing, and who wish to explore various literary genres and expand their strengths and develop the range of their skills in the company of other writers. The workshop approach will encourage learning while doing, and course grades will reflect each student's skills and progress. Students will explore a variety of issues associated with creating literary works, and will be encouraged to read broadly and look at their own work in relation to the work of noteworthy writers. At the Senior level, students are expected to be committed to reading, writing, editing, and being involved in the literary community.

Students are expected to refine writing skills and experiment with various literary forms and subject matter. Students are also expected to engage in meaningful and constructive discussions of literary concerns and specific works in the workshop, and apply these discussions to their own work and the work of fellow classmates. Revising and editing must be a substantial component of the writing process and evidence itself in the final portfolio. At the Senior level, students are expected to be able to conceive of their writing within broader historical and contemporary movements, and are encouraged to think more particularly about social and cultural relevance. Active participation in the workshop, and workshop process, towards the above goals and objectives is crucial for each student's success and the course's success.
